SEEK TO RUIN RANCHERS

Ignorant Blundering of Mulholland is Responsible for Trouble and Unnecssary Expense

L. A. Daily Evening News.

Will the city officials of Los Angeles seek to ruin users of water in Hollywood and Pasadena after June 1 next, as it is now ruining the hundreds of ranchers in the San Fernando valley by enforcing Judge Gibb's injunction.

This most pertinent question was asked by several men interested in San Fernando property and ranches today when the news was bruited that Superintendent Mulholland of the Los Angeles water department had sent deputies to the San Fernando valley yesterday to serve notices on the users of water there that they would be in contempt of court were they to continue using water for irrigation purposes. Hollywood gets its water supply through the West Side Water company. The water this company sells is drawn from beneath the San Fernando valley ranches.

Mulholland's Many Mistakes.

"Why doesn't Los Angeles, if she is short of water at this period of the year, expend $6,000,000 or $8,000,000 in establishing a water supply in our valley? This would be feasible and sure, and could be accomplished in a year's time by piping the water to Los Angeles, and it beats the Owens river scheme all hollow. Why, you people who will be asked to vote to expend $50,000,000 for the owens river project may not, and probably will not, get any Owens river water for eight or ten years, and perhaps not then. Your man Mulholland has made mistakes before that have cost a mint of money, and who knows that he is right now.

"One of his greatest mistakes, one which we ranchers have noticed never was mentioned in the newspapers, occurred when he sunk the 2,000 foot long tunnel from the Los Angeles river across the Arroyo Seco near the Beuna Vista street bridge. We are informed that Los Angeles is not getting one drop of its water from that costly structure, and that several wells, sunk just the other side of it by the city, and bored deeper than the tunnel is buried, are filled with water. When Mulholland conceived the idea that there was or is a large underground lake beneath the San Fernando valley he placed this immense tunnel across the southern end of the valley. The walls of the tunnel were so constructed that the 'underground lake' waters would seep through. But the seepage failed to materialize, and taxpayers of Los Angeles do not know how much that one mistake of Mulholland's cost them."

Heard Talk of Violence.

L. C. Brand, president of the Title Guarantee & Trust company, Los Angeles, who is interested in the San Fernando valley district, and whose company, the Meradero Water company, serves Burbank and vicinity with water for domestic use, is one who has heard talk of violence.

"I have always advised moderation in this matter," said Mr. Brand, "but when ranchers witness the efforts and saving of a lifetime going to rack and ruin because they are shut off from using water from their own wells for irrigation purposes they are naturally desperate and talk wildly. We, the title company, have been made a party to this injunction because the company controls or is agent for land in the valley. (As Mr. Brand spoke these words a copy of the injunction was served on him.)

"We realize the city of Los Angeles has the bulge on us, and that if nas the state militia back of it, were we to resort to violence to protect that which we believe is ours to use. It would be unwise for the ranchers to commit any overt act."

Meantime the ranchers in the San Fernando valley, who have thousands of acres planted in strawberries and other fruits and vegetables, are facing almost absolute ruin because of the city's action in enforcing Judge Gibbs' injunction restraining them from using water in the wells on their own land. If they do not continue to irrigate their crops will burn up in the intense heat of September and October.

Violence against the servers of the injunction notices has been threatened more than once, and in one or two instances men have been heard to threaten that they would dynamite Los Angeles' outside pumping stations, and thus cause Los Angeles' water supply to be shut off if they were not afforded means of relief. They insistently point to the fact that Pasadena gets her water supply from Arroyo Seco and that Hollywood is served with water taken from beneath their ranches.

"We have appealed from Judge Gibbs' decision which he handed down July 19, and have taken the matter to the state supreme court. Whichever side loses there will carry the case to the federal courts as federal questions are involved. This law made by Judge Gibbs is preposterous. The unwritten law of man gives him to the center of the earth and to the skies when his own property is involved. If this law of Judge Gibbs is good law Pasadena and Hollywood could be shut off, as their water supply comes from beneath our ranches.

"Los Angeles owns water bearing

When the Christian development of a community is commensurate with its commercial growth and importance seekers after homes will find it a desirable place to reside. In this respect Glendale is particularly fortunate in the number of houses of worship and in the zeal, ability and high character of the ministers of the several denominations. The latest addition is the new First Methodist Episcopal Church, located at the corner of Third and D streets, which was dedicated last Sunday morning with impressive services. The dedicatory sermon was delivered by Rev. Robert McIntyre, pastor of the First M. E. Church of Los Angeles, and it was a masterly effort. The ceremonies were largely attended, many being present from Los Angeles and other points.

The order of services for the day and evening was as follows:

Prayer meeting, 6:50 to 7:10 a. m.
Sabbath School, 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.

Public Morning Service.

Singing ..... Congregation
Prayer.
Chanting of the Lord's Prayer.

Solo ..... Mrs. A. L. Bryant
Sermon..Rev. Robert McIntyre, D. D.
Singing ..... Congregation
Benediction.

Evening Service at 7:15.

.....E. Kay, chorister
Prayer.
Solo ..... Mr. Hamford
Scripture reading.
Anthem ..... Choir
Sermon..Rev. Alexander Hardie, D. D.
Singing ..... Congregation
Doxology and Benediction.

The sermons were all earnest and able expositions of the divine book, the choir rendered excellent music and the soloists sang beautifully. All in all, it was a great day for the First M. E. Church.

A most gratifying feature of the morning service was the generous response of the friends of the church to the financial contributions. The very considerable sum of $3000, the amount of the church's indebtedness, was contributed within forty minutes. This liberality in the donations caused a slight modification of the program. It was originally intended that the dedication should take place at the afternoon service, but the collections were so ample that it was decided to dedicate at the morning service.

The new structure is a handsome and imposing piece of architecture that reflects credit on its designers and builders. It is fitted up with all the modern conveniences for lighting, heating and ventilation, and its interior arrangement is particularly practical and pleasing. There is also a cozy and comodious study for the pastor in the tower of the church. The total cost of the building and its furnishings, which includes a splendid Estey reed organ, is $6,300.

The history of the first M. E. Church of Glendale is one of rapid and gratifying progress. It was organized October 3, 1903, by the Rev. John Stafford, Presiding Elder of the Pasadena district, with a church membership of thirty-two, and thirty-five pupils enrolled in the Sunday School. The membership has gradually increased until the flock now numbers one hundred and sixty-nine, with one hundred and sixty in attendance at the Sunday School.

All praise and glory is due the popular pastor, Rev. C. R. Norton, who has been the shepherd of the flock since its first coming together. He was appointed pastor and assumed his responsibilities on October 18, 1903, and has served continuously since that time with great credit to himself and to the eminent satisfaction of his congregation. The Rev. Norton is one of the genuinely Christian men who accomplish things. It was through his initiative that the building enterprise was launched last March, and by indefatigable labor, nobly backed up by a harmonious congregation, the fruition of his hopes was reached last Sunday. May he live and reside with us long to carry out the good work he has so auspiciously inaugurated.

C. E. Russell, H. E. Gulvin, Prof. Geo. U. Moyse, Frank Campbell, E. F. Kober, A. B. Schofield and Asa Fanset, representative citizens of Glendale, comprise the board of trustees of the church. Mr. Gulvin, as chairman of the building committee, has been an indispensible factor in the construction of the church. In fact every member of the congregation has contributed his quota in money, labor and spirit.

Services have been continued every night this week. The attendance has been good and much real interest has been manifested.

Monday evening, sermon by Dr. F. D. Mather, of Pasadena. Tuesday evening sermon by Rev. John Pittenger. Wednesday evening, sermon by Rev. W. F. Stone. Thursday evening, sermon by Rev. S. A. Ward. Friday evening, sermon by Rev. J. M. Avery, of Burbank.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

We desire very heartily to thank the many friends of our church who helped to make last Sabbath the great success that it was. The amount asked for was secured in the morning service, so that the dedicatory service was performed in that connection.

Some who had understood that the dedication would occur in the afternoon were not present and did not therefore have the opportunity to contribute. Such opportunity will be given next Sabbath, as there are needed carpets for aisles, screens for the windows and a number of additions to be made. Please bring your offering next Sabbath and it will be counted in as though it had been given on dedication day.

Communion Sabbath morning, the first in our new church home. Members will be received into full connection. Reception by letter and on probation. Baptism of children and older persons.

Miss Nellie Sanborn, field deaconess, will speak in the evening at 7:30. E. L. service at 6:30. Hope there will be a full attendance.

Meetings this week have been fairly well attended and of real interest.

Rev. and Mrs. Hall have moved from us, but Brother and Sister Farrin have come by letter from Tropico, so that the number of membership is the same, 161.

Board of Health Officer Chase was accepted and sureties approved.

E. M. McClure brought up the matter of the city of Los Angeles invoking its injunction restraining the well owners from pumping water from their wells and the chairman called a meeting for Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, at which time the matter was discussed, and it was concluded to defer action until a report was received from the well owners and their legal advisers.

BELIEF AND SERVICE.

At the Presbyterian Church the pastor will begin a series of addresses at the evening services on "Fundamentals of Christian Faith." The evening services for a number of weeks will be made specially attractive to the younger people. There will be special music, and the sermons will be made with a view to the young people. The subject of the sermon this week will be "God."

The topic of the morning service will be "Unconscious Influence."

The management of the skating rink wishes to announce that beginning next week, Wednesday and Friday nights will be reserved for special parties only.

THE GUBERNATORIAL NOMINEES.

The three nominees for Governor of California that have any chance, or hope of winning are Congressman Gillett of Humboldt county; ex-Congressman Theodore Bell, of Napa; and William H. Langdon, of San Francisco. Their possibilities of success appear to be about in the order named. Gillet enjoys the natural advantage of a most decided Republican majority in this state, but will be handicapped somewhat by the antagonism of the union labor element. The leaders of organized labor served notice on the Republican convention that Gillett had incurred the displeasure of the unions by refusing to vote to abolish the writ of injunction, an instrument which may be employed to restrain unions from coercing employes into acceding to the demands of strikers.

Theodore Bell, the Democratic nominee, has served as district attorney of Napa county and as congressman from his district, and in every position of public trust he has served the people with a zeal, faithfulness and intelligence that deserves recognition and reward. That he is a man with the courage of his convictions was also demonstrated by his open defiance and public excoriation of William R. Hearst and his brand of democracy. In view of the normal Republican vote in this state his chances of election appear to depend on a landslide. He looks just now like a good second.

Mr. Langdon is comparatively a new man in the political arena, though he has been somewhat in the limelight since his election as district attorney of San Francisco. As a county superintendent of schools and as a prosecuting attorney he has shown ability and a willingness to turn the rascals out. He is the nominee of the Independence League, a party sired by William R. Hearst, and which, therefore, may be damned by the public. Hearst is organizing and financing the Independence League in order that he may use it as a tail to his political kite. Unless the Union Labor party endorses him, Langdon will bring up the rear of the procession.

Here they are, dear voter, take your choice—this paper is not playing a favorite.

Seek to Ruin Ranchers

land, but I don't know why it is not using it. The argument of the city's counsel in the suit against the valley ranchers was that their wells attracted by seepage the water bearing ground in the river bed. That argument is not good. I have two wells on my place, and the one sunk below sea-level, which is only twenty feet distant from the other, which is not bored as deep, does not lower the level of water in the more shallow well.

"The ranchers tell me that the city has closed several of its pumping stations. Why, I don't know. These same ranchers have offered to pump 1,000 inches a day for the city during periods of a shortage, but their offer has not been acepted."

MULHOLLAND AND RANCRERS.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—To the Editor: Being a San Fernando valley rancher I wish to know by what right the city water commission seeks to dump water at the head of this valley, that it may percolate through and under my land to be, as they plan, recovered below and taken into the city. While this water, if the plan carries, is passing through my ground, is it my property, and can I use it for irrigation, watering my stock, and household purposes, or is it the city's property, and would I be arrested and imprisoned by Mulholland if I did it? I conclude I would be, since the court has said substantially, if I understand that very just body (God save the mark) that if the good God in heaven in His kindness sends rain upon my land, that the water becomes the property of the city of Los Angeles the instant it touches my ranch; that I have no right to it, although sent from heaven upon the earth's surface to which I hold title from the government of the United States.

If I use this water to irrigate my fruit trees, and grow hay for my stock, does the city have a clear title to the fruit and hay grown for the reason that 90 per cent of the fruit is water and that water fell upon my land from the overhanging skies, becoming the property of the city? True, it was by nature taken up and formed into fruit from which I hoped to receive a reward for my industry. What I want to know is, does Mulholland own my fruit, since it grew from the water the city claims?

I also want to know by what right the city can use my land through which to run its Owens river water against my protest. Is my land mine, to do with as I please? Do I own it, or can the city use it as a water pipe through which to convey water, whether I will or not, thereby depriving me of all right to moisture necessary to the tilling of my ranch?

Where upon the face of the great round world does a condition like this obtain? Is it not the grossest injustice? To my mind there is no humanity in it. If it is law, was it made for a selfish purpose? I cannot believe any sane body of men on earth would enact a law so unjust and infamous.

I dare not sign my name hereto, lest I might be marked by Mulholland and his following for persecution as this affair of Owens river goes on, so I am only a distressed RANCHER.

Prezident Ruzvelt having laid a hevvy hand on the spelling-book, it is now up to Emperor William of Jirmany to trifel with the kalinder.

A FAIR PROPOSITION.

Ranchers Offer to Supply City With Water.

THIS AGREEMENT, made this 18th day of September, 1906, betwen the undersigned, who become parties of the first part by signing this agreement, and the CITY OF LOS ANGELES, the party of the second part, WITNESSETH: THAT WHEREAS the parties of the first part are parties defendant in an action brought by the City of Los Angeles against themselves and others,

AND WHEREAS, a decree has been entered in said action restraining the defendants therein under certain conditions from pumping water,

AND WHEREAS, the undersigned parties of the first part desire in behalf of themselves and others in said action to obtain a suspension of said decree,

NOW THEREFORE, the undersigned agree that each of them in the event that the City's water supply shall at any time be insufficient to meet the demand of its consumers, will permit the City, at the City's cost, to use the pumping plants upon their several places for the purpose of replenishing any shortage of water which the said City may suffer. It is provided, however, that the City shall not pump for more than two days at a time from any one of said wells, nor oftener than every other two days; but they do each severally agree for themselves that when there is such shortage of water they will permit the City to use the pumping plant upon their several places, each, during each alternate two days to the full capacity of the said pumps, the City furnishing the fuel and expense of running the said pumps; owners running their pumps. And it is agred that as between the City and the parties of the first part, the City will so distribute its pumping as to make the contributions from the wells of the parties of the first part as uniform and equal as reasonably practicable.

The undersigned have set opposite their several names the location each of his well, together with the capacity of the pumping plant thereon. This agreemnt to continue until the final determination of said suit.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties of the first part have hereunto set their hands the day and year first above written.

This paper will do more for you in this water business than a whole bushel of bleeding lawyers and it won't cost you near so much either. Several have handed in their subscriptions but we must have more to keep the editor in a good humor—Your next.

We are advertised by our prosperous ranchers. Lloyd Gregg some two years ago sold his ranch to his neighbor who gave him what was then supposed to have been a good price $5,500 for 20 acres. Mr. Gregg has spent considerable time in looking over different parts of the country. Last week he purchased the Lynn ranch on San Fernando Ave. for $4,500 there being 14 acres in the place. Prices have stiffened up considerable within the past two years.

The ranchers have commenced telling the big yield stories of the past season. They are the strict truth however. J. W. Deupree has 200 apricot trees (2 acres) and received $748 for the crop. B. J. Albers received on an average of $403 per acre for his apricots. A. McCormick picked 27 boxes of Satsuma plums from one tree, none selling less than $1 per box and as high as $1.35. Don't neglect in telling your friends of these splendid yields; that no irrigation was necessary. We would be glad for our ranchers to let us know their yield per acre so that we might publish to the world a few facts.

Pertinent Questions from Samuel T. Clover

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 17, 1906.
Editor News, Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir: As you doubtless have noted, the Owens river scheme involves the other towns in Los Angeles county, through proposed consolidation, annexation and other means, by which they may be saddled with part of the enormous debt to be incurred. We feel that the sentiment of the outside towns in this matter has not been tested sufficiently. Will you kindly inform us as to your own opinion and local sentiment on the following points.

1. In the event of consolidation will your people be willing to stand their proportion of a fifty million dollar bond issue in case the conduit plan should cost that much, as seems not unlikely?

2. Many of your residents are in business and own property in Los Angeles, and therefore are still further vitally interested in the prospective imposition of a heavy tax on their holdings. They know that water is needed. But if that can be had at a comparatively small, say for less than a fifth of the cost of the conduit project, would they not rather favor the less expensive plan?

3. We contend that fifty million dollars is prohibitive, that it will cripple the community to attempt to shoulder such a burden. Do your people realize that if they vote in its favor it means that all other municipal improvements, no matter how imperative, must be set aside as every dollar of assessed valuation for years to come will be employed to establish the conduit system.

4. Do your people think it a safe investment? To cripple Los Angeles, means certain injury to every other contiguous city, town, or village in the county. Are they ready to assume the risk?

5. Do your people believe in the suggestion earnestly made by The Evening News, that a thorough investigation should be made of this project, in all its ramifications by the best engineering experts obtainable, before the city expends another dollar, and before the country towns are drawn into it.

Very truly yours,
S. T. CLOVER,
Editor and Publisher The Evening News, Los Angeles.

Answers.

No. 1. Am of the opinion that the people will be willing, providing the city will show proof that the "square deal" will be accorded our people.

No. 2. Think the people here will favor only that plan which will settle the question of a water supply for all time.

No. 3. The people here are not sufficiently informed to give an opinion as to the feasability of a $50,000,000 bond issue, but they certainly do not favor the setting aside of all other improvements and will not favor any scheme that may cripple the progress of the community or Southern California in general.

No. 4. Cannot answer at this time. Are not ready to assume risk until further light is shed upon the proposition.

No. 5. Yes; think our people will have to be "shown" before they favor this project.

Dun's Review

The month past has been a busy one for the orchardist. The canning season is now approaching. Activity is shifting to vineyard and packing house. Grape crop is large and of good quality. Many raisins are already on trays and this month will see packing in full swing. Seeded were under way by the 15th.

Grape prices are yet unsettled between grower and wine maker. In seven southern counties wine grape crop is about 15 per cent. greater than last year. On account of wine lost at San Francisco in April and the more recent loss of 250,000 gallons sherry near Fresno, growers are not delivering under contracts made at last year's prices, $15 to $17 per ton, but are disposed to hold for higher prices. It is reported northern growers are demanding $20 to $25 per ton, with buying qery low at these prices.

Fresno's fig crop this year will total 2,000 tons. Packers are paying 2½c. As an output of canned fruit of State will, from short deciduous crops, be so light, Southern California canneries have taken all good quality of fruit offered at maximum quotations. It is the grower's year. Apricot pack of this section is nominal and peach pack is larger than usual owing to the fact that dryers, afraid of price, bought sparingly. Many lines of fruit are entirely sold out and market continues firm and advancing.

Cured fruit market shows little change. Apricots are firm at 15 to 16 cents for fancy. It is estimated only 50 carloads remain unsold. Peaches move slowly. Jobbers are not filling their wants, although it is known that pack is considerably lower than early estimates and inquiry is more active. Growers are making stand for 8½c to 9c orchard run.

Raisin situation is exceedingly good. Large sales have been made 6 cent basis, fancy seeded. Crop runs to two crowns and seedless and may not reach 45,000 ton estimate. As 25,000 have already been sold for early delivery, prices are not likely to be lower.

Sugar campaign is progressing well, beets showing high sugar per cent and good tonage. In bean market, pinks are nearly cleaned up and advanced sharply during August. Limas were weak, declining to $3.50—$3.60 f. o. b. Other varieties firm and unchanged. Honey crop is very short, about one-half normal. There is good Coast and Eastern inquiry and price is advancing.

The Walnut Growers Assn. has made its annual quotations and they range an average reduction of 1½ cents on all grades, soft shells, 11c, 8c, hard shells 10½c, 7½c. Large California crops, indications of heavy importations and low prices set by foreign growers, influencing the Association.

The orange market has shown usual quiet of the season. All offering find ready sale. Crop of Valencias is proving short. Quotations are well held up. First class fruit not selling under $3.75 f. o. b. Floridas will come in first of next month, 4,000,000 boxes is estimate of crop. Lemons have been going skyward, breaking last years high price record at this season, one carlood bringing $2,700 net California, $300 higher than any previous return.

Locally all jobbing lines report volume of August sales in advance of last year. Retail business in many lines shows usual between season quiet. Number and value of building permits show falling off of building. Cause of this is given as scarcity of lumber due to labor troubles at San Pedro. Outlook for Fall and Winter trade is exceedingly good. Most encouraging is fact that during past three months a surprising number of small manufacturing enterprises have opened up.

Failures for month 24, liabilities $57,000, assets $40,000. Same month last year, 12 failures. liabilities $47,000 and assets $25,000.

A number of communications were unavoidably crowded out this week. All communications should reach this office not later than Thursday noon to insure publication.

RANCHERS, STAND PAT!

Superintendent Mulholland of the Los Angeles Water Department sent deputies to the San Fernando valley Wednesday to serve injunctions on the users of water for irrigating purposes, restraining them from further use of the water. Several ranchers at Tropico, West Glendale and Burbank were served with these injunctions on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the deputies are still in the field executing the orders of this inhuman and incompetent boss.

Of course the main fault for existence of this infamous decree of court lies with the judge who issued the injunction, but Mulholland has become so scared of his job that he has let his anxiety get the better of his judgment and cause him to misrepresent conditions to the city board of water commissioners who gave him authority to cause the enforcement of this ridiculous, idiotic and inhuman decree of an incompetent and spiteful court.

Should these injunctions be strictly enforced it will mean a barren waste where now are 350 acres of alfalfa, which produces seven tons per acre per year, or a total of 2,450 tons, or about $50,000 worth of hay, and besides the hay there are about 600 acres of strawberries, which produce in the neighborhood of $250,000 worth of berries, the majority of which are marketed in Los Angeles. There are many other products which depend for their existence upon the water that is pumped from the wells of the ranchers, and all of these things are to be wiped out of existence simply because there is a scheme on by a certain set of rascals in the city of Los Angeles to hold positions of authority whereby they can fatten at the expense of the taxpayers. There is little doubt but these parties expect to be appointed to positions of responsibility in the securing of the Owens river water supply for Los Angeles, and in order to make themselves more solid for these places they have concluded to make the people of the city believe they are facing a great crisis and that they (the rascals) are going to rescue the city from threatened famine.

The court's injunction states in effect that the injunction has become operative because the surface flow of water has ceased in the Los Angeles river at the Buena Vista tunnel. The injunction is not issued because the city cannot or does not have an ample supply of water for the use of its inhabitants, but simply because the surface flow has ceased at that point. Of course it is well known by the people of this valley that the city has more water than it can use right here in the valley, and the invoking of this injunction is only a help to a quicker solution as to who has the right to use the water. Of course the ranchers cannot make a living for themselves and their families unless they are allowed to irrigate their crops, and it is pretty certain that the crops will be irrigated. The thing to be done now, and as soon as possible, is to place the facts in relation to the supply before the Los Angeles city board of water commissioners and insist upon these men making a tour of inspection through the San Fernando valley. The city of Los Angeles does not need any more water than it now has or can have by putting in operation its pumping plants which are now lying idle. The farmers own the water which lies under their lands and they have a right to use that water, and they are going to use it. Everybody must stand pat.

John M. McClure, of the U. S. Sub-Treasury, San Francisco, has been the guest of his brother, E. M. McClure and family, the past week.

Mulholland says we are going to shoot him. Getting worried, eh? The truth hurts worse than bullets sometimes, so keep the good work going on.

Say, one of you editors that visited us, try and see if a city paper will print an interview from you on the water question. Can't be done. Mulholland has a monopoly on water interviews.

If everything is on the square in this water deal, why do the Los Angeles papers refuse to print our side of the story? There's a nigger in the wood pile. Get him out! Public opinion will find him, if we keep it going.

That's right, ye country editors; go at them. Just give your readers the straightforward facts. That's all we ask. Facts are our weapons. Thanks.

Los Angeles will be the big IT in the consolidation, but what do we get—the interest to pay? Of course, and a little sniff of honor. But for the waterless land's sake, our kids will starve on honor.

Advertise in the Glendale News and note the quick returns.

The City's Vast Appetite

The piers and wharves of the water front show how hungry San Francisco is, and how varied her menu.

Daily one of the two river steamers of the Southern Pacific Company unloads at her dock fruit and vegetables from the river islands and from the Sacramento valley beyond, while the Central valley sends down the San Joaquin river and the Bay many varieties of fruits and vegetables and a motley fleet of coasting vessels bring lumber, hay, wood, barley, vegetables and cargoes of canned salmon, to feed an appetite that grows with the increase of population and the needs of new homes.

One coast vessel brought down 45,000 cases of salmon and 15 have come into this port bearing what is said to be one-half the salmon pack of Alaska.

From afar the "tramp ships" make a forest of masts at the docks, and these contribute to the maw of the growing city everything from the structural steel to bales of rags; from tens of thousands of barrels of cement to tons of rounded gray stones from foreign beaches, looking like exaggerated eggs. They are flint and go to make more cement. Cases of Scotch whiskey, barrels of Epsom salts and hogsheads of oxalic acid, tons of pigiron and cargoes of window glass and bales of empty bottles and many other things, come out of the holds of these vast ships.

The "Portalloch," and the "Crown of Germany," sister ships brought immense cargoes, the latter the most varied that ever came to this port.

Teams are loading and moving the varied material as rapidly as possible and one vessel succeeds another at the docks as if a procession of tramp ships from the great ports of the world was streaming toward the Bay of San Francisco.

The "Strathtay," a British vessel, is among the number now discharging a varied cargo on the bay front.

According to the officers of the "Strathtay," the British company that owns the tramp owns six similar vessels and is building twelve more, every one of which is likely to make her maiden trip bringing building material from Europe to this port.

Some of these tramps have already arrived, discharged their cargoes and departed. The ocean highway between here and the old world is still dotted at frequent intervals with big-bellied, deeply-laden steamers of many nationalities with their blunt noses all headed along the track that leads to the Golden Gate.

Peoples Theater

"The Paymaster" is playing to crowded houses afternoon and night this week at the Peoples Theater, Los Angeles. Next week the beautiful Spanish play, "Carmen." The daily ten cent matinees are proving a big drawing card at this new playhonse and the night performances for ten, twenty and thirty cents are far above what might be expected at that price.
